

Q1) a) Introduction to Politics as Power

- This view does not confine politics to the private or public realm; sees it in work in all social activities and at every level of social interaction (Adrian Leftwich) - 2

* Generic introduction w. & t. power: 1

* Generic introduction without power: 0 - 0.5

b) Harold Lasswell's defⁿ & interpretⁿ

- H.L.'s book title: "Who Gets What, When, How?" - 0.5
- Human needs $\Rightarrow \infty$ but resources $\Rightarrow$ limited
 - Politics involves diversity & conflict driven by scarcity - 1.5
- Conclude that politics is a struggle over scarce resources & power is the means to conduct this struggle - 1

c) i) Power as Decision-Making

- Define this face of power as conscious actions that influence the content of decisions. - 2
- Dahl's classic study "Who Governs" which judged power by analysing decisions based on the preferences of the actors involved - 2
- Keith Boulding's distinction of: force (stick) / productive exchanges (deal), creation of loyalty (bribe) - 2

ii) Power as Agenda Setting

- Defⁿ: Ability to prevent decisions from being made (non-decision making) - 2
- Involves ability to set/control political agenda - 1
- Developed by Brach & Bratzky - 1
- Example < with explanation - 2

iii) Politics as Thought Control

- Defⁿ: Ability to influence another person by shaping what he/she wants, thinks, needs - 2
- Overlaps with "soft power" & is expressed as ideological indoctrination or psychological control - 2
- Example < with explanation - 2

d) Marxist Interpretⁿ

- Political power is merely the power of one class oppressing another - 1
- Detail the Marxist concept that politics is a part of a "superstructure" that arises out of and reflects economic "base" of social life. - 1
- Lenin's statement "politics is the most concentrated form of economics", highlighting political power is deeply rooted in the class system - 1

e) Feminist Interpretⁿ

- Feminist sought to expand the political arena, saying "the personal is the political" - 1
- Viewed politics as a process relating to the exercise of power over others - 1
- Kate Millet's defⁿ from "Sexual Politics": politics as "power-structured relationships" where one group is controlled by another

f) Conclusion: - 1 mark

